Foundation Course in Gerontological Nursing 2025

Overview

One of Europe's largest institutes for ageing[1] proudly present this five day foundation course in gerontological nursing.

This course aims to develop the knowledge nurses require to meet the complex needs of older people in the healthcare setting.

The course also aims to develop the skills that the nurse requires to function as an integral part of the interdisciplinary team caring for the older person.
Suitable for all registered nurses working with older persons.
